Santa Claus to Be at Porteous &

Santa Claus has sent word to the Porteous & Mitchell company of this city that he has left his summer home at the North Pole and will arrive at Norwich on Saturday afternoon. He will bring with him "Myah," his Esquimaux assistant, and as usual will make his headquarters at the Porteous & Mitchell company's store from now until Christmas.

& Mitchell company's store from now until Christmas.
Whilst we have every assurance that Santa Claus can never grow old, yet of late years he has developed some of the characteristics which come with advancing years, in his love of home and his refuctance to dispense with home comforts. In order that he might be surrounded as much as possible with the comforts of his northern lower the Pertagus & Mitchell company the Pertagus & Mitchell company. sible with the comforts of his northern home, the Portsous & Mitchell company, at considerable expense, has had his own Igloo transported from the snow-capped hills of the Arctic circle and erected in their large display window, so that when Santa Claus arrives on Saturday he will be most pleasantly supprised. He extends a general invitation to his little friends to be on hand to greet him upon his arrival Saturday afternoon.

Dennison Goods for Christmas.

Dennison's Gift Dressings add significance and put the finishing touch on a present. Little items, but very tasty, and this season they are prettier than ever. The variety is large also. The assortment includes crepe paper, plain and decorated: Christmas seals, Christmas tags, holly and Christmas red paper for wrapping, coln boxes, coin envelopes, empty boxes, holly decorated: Christmas bells, Christmas garlands, Dennison's handy boxes, wax sets, gummed ribbon, paper napkins, tinsel cord in gold and sliver, etc. The complete line of these duinty goods, so necessary at this season of the year, is now on sale at Cranston's popular book store, on Main street, number one-eight-five.

BROADWAY THEATER.

Cook Players in "The Prince Chap."

It is a fact now generally well known that Miss Helen Pullman, who will be seen here as Claudia in "The Prince Chap" at the Broadway theater this evening, is accounted the most accomplished child actress on the American stage today. She plays with a naturalness, a grace and an intelligence that might be well copied by some of her elders who aspire to more pretenher elders who aspire to more preten-tious parts. She is a remarkably beau-tiful as well as talented child, and the tiful as well as talented child, and the future contains a large amount of success for her. Aside from her appearance in "The Prince Chap," Helen Pullman has supported Ezra Kendall in "Weather Beaten Benson, was with Ethel Barrymore in "A Doll's House," and has played various other stage children.

Her sister Beryl, who also plays Claudia in the first act of "The Prince Chap," is another charming little girl and actress. Although the children are young in years, they are old in stage experience. Beryl was with the Metropolitan Grand Opera company playing Trouble in the production of "Mme. Butterfly," She also played the same role with Henry W. Savage's English production of Puccini's famous opera of Japan. She has supported Ethel Barrymore in "A Doll's House," played Bessie in "Cape Cod Folks," and Egil in "The Viking at Helegland."

BREED THEATER.

Unexcelled Programme of High Class Motion Pictures.

The many patrons of the Breed the-ater yesterday were regaled with one of the best programmes of the season, one which for variety and beauty of subjects and intensity of dramatic ac-tion is seldom equalled. The especial-ly novel picture entitled Sealed In-structions, appeals to all, because of the most accurate. the most accurate impersonation of President Taft in the scene at the White House. There is a clever melo-dramatic vein running through the en-tire ploture, and the unusually novel climax is as thrilling as could be im-

There is a very fine picture entitled. The Lonely Bachelor, in which the drama and comedy is so connected that the audience follows it with interest unabated to the very pretty close of the picture. Miss Wolcott is charming her hearers with her sweetly beautiful rendition of the vocal arrangement of "Hearts and Flowers."

THE AUDITORIUM.

Especially attractive to the children will be this week's Saturday matinee, en account of the appearance of Prof. Charles Carlos' Animal Circus. Mr. Carlos has three of the prettiest and best trained ponies that ever appeared in vaudeville or circus, as well as several clever dogs and birds. One of these intelligent little horses is valued at more than one thousand dollars.

Another act which always amuses the ladies and children is the one presented by James McDuff, the ventriloquil mimic, who is very truthful in his many imitations. The Marshalls, two clever colored entertainers, sing some good ragtime and also introduce catchy piano selections.

catchy piano selections.

Miss Francis adds much to this entertaining bill with her English songs.

Miss Morelle today will sing the catchy illustrated song. Poverty.

The motion pictures for the end of the week are entitled The Crooked Path, The Light That Came, etc.

Consul General R. M. Bartleman of Consul General R. M.
